DATA SCIENCE PROJECTS

High-Dimensional Variable Selection in NHANES Health Data Python / Statistical Learning • Analyzed 92,988 NHANES records and 220 variables to develop and evaluate predictive models for hemoglobin levels. • Applied LASSO regression to reduce 14 candidate predictors to 8 key variables while preserving predictive performance and improving model interpretability. • Validated model robustness using 1,000 permutation tests and 2,000 bootstrap resamples; compared full and reduced models using test-set MSE.	Apr 2026 - May 2026
Job Market & Salary Analytics Oracle SQL / Database Design • Designed a normalized relational database with 8 related tables covering job seekers, employers, skills, job postings, applications, and salary data. • Implemented primary and foreign keys, validation constraints, junction tables, 3 database triggers, and 2 SQL views in Oracle SQL. • Developed analytical SQL queries to examine salary patterns by skills, education, industry, and application activity.
